Allow me to present you, fellow-citizens, with another view of this interesting subject. The Government wishes to derive a certain amount of revenue from foreign imports. Let us suppose the total annual amount of imports to be $100,000,000, and the total amount of revenue to be raised from it to be $24,000,000. Is it at all material, whether that $24,000,000 be applied in the form of duties, equally over the whole 100,000,000, or that it be drawn from some 50,000,000 or more of the imports, leaving the rest free of duty? In point of fact, such has been the case for several years. Is not a compensation found, for the duty paid upon one articke, by the exemption from duty on another article?

Take the wearing apparel of a single individual, and suppose you have a duty of $2 to raise upon it. Is it of any consequence to him whether you levy the whole $2 upon all parts of his wearing apparel equally, or levy it exclusively upon his coat and his shirt, leaving the other articles free? And it, by such discriminations as I have described, without prejudice to the consumer, you can raise up, cherish and sus-ain domestic manufactures, increasing the wealth and prosperity, and encouraging the labor of the nation, ought it not to be done?

We are invited, by the partizans of the doctrine of free trade, to imitate the liberal example of some of the great European powers—

England, we are told, is abandoning her restrictive policy, and adopting that of free trade.—

England adopting the principles of free trade—

Why, where are her Corn laws—those laws which exclude an article of prime necessity—the very bread which sustains human life—in order to afford protection to English agriculture.

And, on the single article of American tobacco, England levies annually an amount of revenue equal to the whole amount of duties levied annu-ally by the United States upon all the articles of import from all the foreign nations in the world, including England. That is her free of their peculiar opinions. They must find some common ground on which both can stand, and reflect that, if neither has obtained all that it desires, it has secured something, and what it does not retain has been gotten by its friends and countrymen.

There are very few who dissent from the opinion that in time of peace, the federal revenues ought to be drawn from foreign imports, without recourse to internal taxation. Here is a basis for accommodation and mutual satisfaction.—

Let the amount, which is required for an economical administration of the government, when we are not engaged in war, be raised exclusively on foreign imports, and in adjusting a tariff for that purpose, let such discriminations be made as will foster and encourage our own domestic industry.

All parties ought to be satisfied with a tariff for revenue, and discriminations for protection.

In thus settling this great and disturbing question, in a spirit, of mutual concession and of amicable compromise, we do but follow the noble example of our illustrious ancestors, in the formation and adoption of our present happy constitution. It was that benign spirit, that presided over all their deliberations, and it has been in the same spirit that all the threatening crises that have arisen during the progress of the administration of the constitution, have been happily quieted and accommodated.

Next, if not superior in importance to the question of encouraging the national industry, is that of the national currency. I do not purpose to discuss the point, whether a paper representative of the precious metals, in the form of bank notes, or in other forms convertible into those metals, on demand, at the will of the holder, be or be not desirable or expedient. I believe it could be easily shown, that in the actual state of the commercial world, and considering the amount and distribution of the precious metals throughout the world, such a convertible paper is indispensably necessary. But this is not an open question. If it were desirable that no such paper should exist, it is not in the power of the General Government under its present constitution, to put down or prevent its circulation.

Such a convertible paper has existed, does exist, and probably will always exist, in spite of the General Government. The twenty-six States which compose the Union claim the right and exercise the right, now not to be controverted, to authorize and put forth such a convertible paper, according to their own sense of their respective interests.

Even a large majority of the States were to resolve to discontinue the use of a paper representative of specie, the paper would nevertheless be created and circulated, unless every state in the Union abandoned its use; which nobody believes is ever going to happen. If some of the States should continue to employ and circulate such paper it would flow into and be current in other States that might have refused to establish banks. And in the end

VENI, VIDI, VICI.

AS BEEN ESTIMATED THAT UPWARDS OF

100,000 Persons sited that splendid Edifice

OAK HALL,

CE ITS PRESENT, AND THAT

150,000

BEEN CLOTHED AT THIS POPULAR tailoring Establishment.

REASONS why Clothing can be sold at this Establishment so much LOWER than at any places are these:

1.—Our retail sales are about ten times the ent of any other establishment in Boston.

2.—We do a sole Cash Business, consequently the purchaser does not have to pay for the ing of the dealer's clothes; and all the genteel class ade that have been in the habit of ordering clothes up town, and their bill sent once or a year, have found that they can make a

ING OF ABOUT ONE HALF, by cash a, at OAK HALL, and can get a garment made a good style, or a little better.

3.—If I were to judge by some samples worn at, sit upon 'the human form divine' as 'though our journeymen had made them, AND NOT

THEY THEMSELVES, so that with all this inse trade of Custom Work, and a large quan-old daily ready-made, I am enabled to sell at Extra low Price.

4.—Our custom work is made by Journeymen Tailors and we employ none other than the MOST SCIENTIFIC CUTTERS.

5.—To give the public an idea of the extent of business, I will merely state that I have at this in my employ ashionable Cutters.
